Lighting The Path To Healthy Aging
Kronos Longevity Research Institute

The Wrigley Mansion was host to guests attending The Enlightened Age Forum: Lighting the Path to Healthy Aging presented by Kronos Longevity Research Institute (KLRI). The guest speaker for the evening was Richard Carmona, the 17th surgeon general of the United States. The honoree of the evening was Paul F. Glenn, who received the first Enlightened Age Award. Glenn is founder and chair of the Glenn Foundation for Medical Research and is a pioneer in the field of aging. Pat McMahon was the emcee for the evening and guests were welcomed by S. Mitchell Harman. Those attending the event enjoyed a raffle including an Executive Health Program from Kronos Optimal Health Centre. The program includes one-on-one screenings, tests and consultations with the experts. Other items included a stay at the Arizona Biltmore, roundtrip tickets from Southwest Airlines and gift packages from AJ's Fine Foods, Ballet Arizona, IKEA and the Verde Canyon Railway. KLRI is dedicated to understanding the human aging process and preventing age-related disease. KLRI conducts and fosters research that moves basic discoveries into clinical practice and communicates the research results to scientific and healthcare professionals and to the public so that people may enjoy longer and healthier lives. ■ —Claudia Wright

The Arizona Celebrity Dance Challenge
The New Foundation

Jim Covarrubias, Debra Anderson

Valley celebrities and personalities teamed up with local dance instructors and competed in a ballroom dance competition to support The New Foundation, a mental health and chemical dependency treatment center for teens and their families. Celebrities included Chad Johnson, chaplain of the Arizona Cardinals; Michael Stackpole, author of The New York Times best-selling series of Star Wars X-wing novels; Tracy Penwell, owner of Rima Fine Art in Scottsdale; Tim Hatrick of KNIX radio, and author and medium Allison Dubois. The judges chose Chad Johnson and Kim Levin as first-place winners, Tracy Penwell and JCYeh as second-place winners and third place went to Marilyn Joyce and her instructor Taylor Winningham. The audience-choice winners were Chad Johnson and Kim Levin. Silent auction items included original paintings from local artists, jewelry, furniture and more. Programs at The New Foundation that were supported by the dance challenge are Survivors Program and the Stop Domestic Violence Program. The mission of The New Foundation is to provide quality behavioral health and education programs to youth and families in order to improve their quality of life. ■ —Claudia Wright
